IGNORED AND LEFT TO DIE BY BANDITS THAT HAVE ATTACKED AND DESTROYED THE CARAVAN OF HIS ADVENTUROUS PARENTS WHILE TRAVELING IN BURMA, DAVID MERRYWETHER IS PICKED UP BY A WANDERING TIGRESS AND RAISED AS HER OWN! BY CONSTANT ASSOCIATION HE ACQUIRES THE ATTRIBUTES OF THE CAT FAMILY! HE CAN SEE IN THE DARK! LEAP MANY TIMES HIS LENGTH! CLIMB ANYTHING! BUT MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL HE IS ENDOWED WITH THE FABULOUS NINE LIVES! DISPLEASED WITH CIVILIZATION HE VOWS TO DEVOTE HIS LIVES TO RIGHT ALL WRONGS! ATTIRED IN A WEIRD CATLIKE COSTUME! AS THE MEN FILE OUT, EACH TAKES A LONG TUBULAR PACKAGE FROM A TRUCK PARKED IN THE SHADOWS!

THE NEXT DAY AT THE FIELD OFFICE OF THE SHELTON OIL CO.

AS SOON AS THE MEN ARE SAFELY OUT OF THE AREA JIM SETS THE TORPEDO INTO THE DRILL CASING.

RELEASING THE TORPEDO HE DASHES WILDLY AWAY!

WHEN THAT BABY BLOWS, SOMETHINGS COMING UP, BUT IT AINT GONNA BE OIL!

HEY! WHAT'S JIM A'RUNNIN' AWAY SO FAST FOR? THEM TORPEDOES AINT THAT DANGEROUS!

SUDDENLY A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION RENTS THE AIR!

WOW! FIRE!

HIGH OVERHEAD A SMALL PRIVATE MONO-PLANE IS CAUGHT IN THE TREMENDOUS UPDRAFT FROM THE EXPLODING OIL WELL!

WHOA BABY! WHAT GOES ON HERE!

THE SUDDEN DISTURBANCE AFFECTS THE PLANE'S LIFT AND IT DIVES PERILOUSLY!

THE PILOT COOLY WORKS THE CONTROLS AS HE STRIVES TO PULL THE SHIP BACK ON AN EVEN KEEL!

SAY THIS IS NO ORDINARY AIR CONDITION... ACTS LIKE A VACUUM!

OPENING THE THROTTLE WIDE HE GOES INTO A POWER DIVE IN A BRAVE ATTEMPT TO AGAIN RESTORE LIFT TO THE FLOUNDERING CRAFT!

AS HE FEELS THE CONTROLS START TO RESPOND, HE GLANCES DOWN-

OH-OH THERE IT IS! A BURNING OIL WELL I'M GOIN' TO SIT DOWN AND LOOK IT OVER!

THE HIGHLY DEVELOPED HEARING OF THE "CATMAN" DISTINCTLY PICKS UP THE MUMBLED WORDS OF "OLD MIKE"!

"HE KNEW IT WAS GOING TO BURN DID YOU SEE HIM RUN?" "WHAT DOES MIKE MEAN BY THAT, WHAT'S THIS ALL ABOUT?" JOE,...

I DON'T EXACTLY KNOW, MR. MERRYWETHER, BUT WHEN JIM DAHL DROPPED THE TORPEDO HE RUN LIKE BLAZES! "OLD MIKE" SAYS TO ME "WHAT'S HE RUNNIN' LIKE THAT FOR? THEM THINGS AINT THAT DANGEROUS!" I DON'T GET IT... BUT "OLD MIKE" SEEMED TO SUSPECT SOMETHIN'!

Lucky LANDERS

WAR CORRESPONDENT * * *

LUCKY LANDERS, AN AMERICAN NEWS REPORTER FOR THE NEW YORK DAILY, IS ASSIGNED TO COVER FLASH NEWS IN WAR-TORN EUROPE.

64
CLIMBER-HILLNER

ON THE COMMANDER'S OFFICE LUCKY AND TEX FINISH AN ALL NIGHT INTERVIEW...

DAWN... THE LOUD ROAR OF MOTORS FILL THE COLD WINTER NIGHT AS ENGLAND'S FAMOUS NIGHT FIGHTERS RETURN TO THEIR SECRET AIR BASE AFTER A SPECTACULAR BATTLE FAR OVER THE ENEMY LINES...

LISTEN... IT SOUNDS LIKE A SQUAD OF PLANES RETURNING!

YES THAT'S THE NIGHT PATROL, THE MOST FAMOUS SQUADRON IN ALL ENGLAND!... AND IT IS LED BY LIEUTENANT BARKER WHO HOLDS MORE VICTORIES THAN ANY MAN IN BRITAIN!

NIGHT SQUAD REPORTING, SIR, AND WITH BAD NEWS! LT. BARKER WAS SHOT DOWN OVER THE ENEMY LINE!

AS THE TIME NEARS FOR THE TAKE-OFF THE PILOTS HURRY TO THEIR PLANES

-- BUT AS TWO BRITISH ACES PASS THE SHADOWS OF THE HANGER --

A FEW MINUTES LATER, LUCKY AND TEX EMERGE FROM THE SHADOWS WITH THE ENGLISH FLIERS UNIFORMS ON

HURRY, TEX, WE'D BETTER GET IN THAT PLANE BEFORE SOMEONE SUSPECTS US!

THE SIGNAL IS GIVEN AND THE FAMOUS NIGHT FLIGHT ONCE AGAIN TAKES WINGS!

YA' KNOW, TEX, I SORTA HATED TO TIE THOSE TWO PILOTS UP, BUT IT WAS THE ONLY WAY. IF BARKER IS STILL ALIVE, WE'LL BRING HIM BACK!

AN HOUR LATER HIGH OVER THE ENEMIES TERRITORY, LUCKY BANKS THE PLANE AND DIVES DOWN THROUGH THE CLOUDS--

FLYING CLOSE TO THE EARTH THEY SOON FIND A LEVEL STRETCH OF GROUND FOR LANDING!

THIS IS GOOD ENOUGH, TEX. WE'D BETTER WALK THE REST OF THE WAY. I'M PRETTY SURE THERE'S A NAZI CAMP SOMEWHERE AROUND HERE!

HEY, LUCKY, I HAVE A FUNNY FEELING THAT SOMEONE IS WATCHING US!

YEAH, IT IS KIND OF QUIET AROUND HERE - BETTER KEEP YOUR GUN HANDY, TEX, THERE'S NO TELLING WHAT WE'LL RUN INTO!

ALL RIGHT, YOU TWO - DROP THOSE GUNS AND TURN AROUND!

WHA..?

WHAT TH? YOU FELLOWS HAVE ENGLISH SUITS ON! WHO ARE YOU?

WE'RE AMERICANS, I'M LUCKY LANDERS AND THIS IS TEX BAILEY! I --- SAY! YOU MUST BE BARKER!

WE CAME TO SEE WHA
WHAT HAP.
PENED TO YOU!

IT'S GOOD YOU SHOW-
ED UP WHEN YOU DID
- MY PLANE CRASHED
BUT I BAILED OUT!
THE ENEMY HAS BEEN
LOOKING FOR ME EVER
SINCE THEY KNOW I'M STILL ALIVE!

LISTEN - I HEAR
VOICES... HOLY
SMOKES LOOK!
IT'S THE WHOLE
NAZI ARMY!

COME ON BARKER,
WE HAVE A PLANE
BEHIND THESE TREES!

QUICK, BARKER, YOU TAKE
THE CONTROLS, AND TEX
CAN HANDLE THE GUNS.
I'LL HANG ON THE WING -
IT'S OUR ONLY CHANCE!

MAKING EVERY SHOT COUNT LUCKY HOLDS
BACK THE SOLDIERS UNTIL THE PLANE
STARTS ROLLING ACROSS THE GROUND.

A MOMENT LATER THE SHIP ZOOMS ABOVE
THE TREES WITH LUCKY CLINGING DESPER-ATELY ON THE WING.

SUDDENLY OUT OF THE DARKNESS ROARS
AN ENEMY SQUADRON.

HOLY
NOW WE ARE IN TROUBLE!

BARKER WON'T BE ABLE TO HANDLE THIS PLANE WITH ME HANGING ON THE
WING! ... AND THOSE MUGS
ARE GAINING PRETTY FAST.

UNABLE TO TURN AND FIGHT, THE BRITISH WAR ACE DIVES INTO THE CLOUDS.

BUT THE NAZIS FOLLOW CLOSE IN THE REAR AND OPEN FIRE.

FOLLOWING CLOSE BEHIND, THE NAZI PLANES FIRE A STEADY STREAM OF LEAD INTO THE BRITISH FIGHTER

A MOMENT LATER BARKER SWINGS THE SHIP UP TO MEET THE ONCOMING NAZIS

REALIZING THEIR DEFEAT, THE REMAINING NAZI ATTACKERS TURN AND SPEED AWAY WITH THEIR THROTTLES WIDE OPEN

PASSING OVER THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, BARKER DIVES TO THE WATER

POWERFUL SEARCHLIGHTS FROM THE SHORE PLAY UPON THE ENEMY PLANES AS BARKER SWOOPS DOWN UPON THEM

WAITING HIS CHANCE LUCKY DROPS FROM THE WING, AND PLUNGES INTO THE COLD WATER

THERE'S ANOTHER ONE! HE'S TRYING TO GET AWAY!

AND BACK IN NEW YORK AT THE OFFICE OF THE DAILY STAR

THE FOLLOWING DAY AT A BRITISH BROADCASTING STATION.

... AND KNOWING THAT THERE WAS ONLY ROOM FOR TWO PASSENGERS LUCKY LANDERS CLUNG TO THE WING WHILE MACHINE GUNS WHIZZED ALL AROUND HIM. FLYING CLOSE TO THE CHANNEL, LUCKY PLUNGED INTO THE WATER LEAVING BARKER AND TEX BAILEY FREE TO WAGE A SPECTACULAR AIR BATTLE! LANDERS WAS SAFELY RESCUED BY THE COAST GUARD PATROL!

SHE IS VERY MUCH WORRIED SAHIB VERON! WE DO NOT HAVE LONG TO WAIT FOR THE JEWEL NOW! SHE IS AWARE THAT UNLESS SHE SURRENDERS IT AT ONCE WE KILL HER BROTHER!

HE PEEKS THROUGH THE SLIGHT OPENING AND WHAT HE SEES, SENDS HIM TEARING DOWN THE STREET TOWARDS THE HOTEL

The DEACON

FROM A SECRET HIDEOUT
IN THE MARSHLAND CHURCH
THE DEACON AND HIS YOUNG
COMPANION MICKEY CONTINUE THEIR NEVER ENDING WAR AGAINST CRIME !!!

AT THE AIRPORT
IN WASHING-TON, A HUGE
TRANSPORT PLANE
LANDS TO REFUEL.

AMONG THE PASSENGERS DISEM-
BARKING IS J. REYNOLDS KREELY, FINANCIER.

AN HOUR LATER THE SHINING PLANE, ONCE AGAIN TAKES TO THE AIR, BOUND FOR NEW YORK

OH, MISS HERES A BRIEF CASE I FOUND UNDER THIS SEAT SOMEONE MUST HAVE LOST IT... IT HAS INITIALS J.R.K. ON IT!

IT MUST BELONG TO MR. KREELY HE GOT OFF AT WASHINGTON... WE'LL HAVE TO GET IN TOUCH WITH HIM WHEN WE REACH NEW YORK!

AS THE SUN SINKS BELOW THE HORIZON THE GREAT PLANE DRAWS NEARER AND NEARER THE GREAT METROPOLIS

SUDDENLY WITHOUT WARNING, THERE IS A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION!

AND A FEW SECONDS LATER THE FLAMING WRECKAGE CRASHES TO THE GROUND

THE FOLLOWING DAY THE TRAGIC STORY IS TOLD THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

???

ALTHOUGH INVESTIGATORS ARE ASSIGNED TO THE CASE, THEY CAN FIND NO EXPLANATION AS TO THE CAUSE OF THE EXPLOSION!

???

A WEEK LATER TWO MORE AIRLINERS ARE BLOWN TO BITS

THEN A FEW DAYS LATER A SLEEK STREAMLINED TRAIN ROLLS TOWARDS NEW ORLEANS — — —

AT THE SMALL TOWN OF MILLSVILLE A SINGLE PASSENGER, J. REYNOLDS KREELY LEAVES THE TRAIN —

AND SHORTLY, THE STREAMLINER IS ONCE AGAIN SPEEDING ACROSS THE COUNTRY.

AS IT ROLLS ACROSS A HIGH BRIDGE, A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION HURLS THE ENTIRE TRAIN INTO THE AIR!

THE FOLLOWING DAY AT THE MARSHLAND CHURCH, SECRET HIDEOUT OF THE DEACON

THIS EXPLOSION ISN'T ACCIDENTAL, MICKEY—THERE'S SOMEONE CONNECTED WITH IT... J. REYNOLDS KREELY LEAVING THE TRAIN BEFORE THE EXPLOSION POINTS A FINGER OF SUSPICION AT HIM!

THE PLANE EXPLOSIONS ALL POINT THAT WAY TOO... COME ON, MICKEY, WE GO NOW TO SEE MR. KREELY!

REACHING MILLSVILLE, THE DEACON AND MICKEY INQUIRE AT HOTELS FOR KREELY.

YOU SAY THERE WAS A MR. KREELY AT THIS HOTEL?

YES SIR, HE JUST CHECKED OUT. HE IS LEAVING ON THE NEXT TRAIN FOR NEW YORK.

LET'S GO MICKEY. WE MUST CATCH THAT TRAIN BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE!

JUST AS THE TRAIN PULLS OUT OF THE STATION, MICKEY AND THE DEACON LEAP ONTO THE OBSERVATION CAR

SUDDENLY ONE OF THE GUNMEN LEAPS TO HIS FEET
 DRAWS A BEAD ON KREELY AND FIRES!

A SECOND TOO LATE THE DEACON DIVES AT THE KILLER AND SENDS HIM SPRAWLING TO THE GROUND.

MR. KREELY, ARE YOU--

THOSE MEN, THEY FORCED ME TO DO THIS. I WAS UNDER A SPELL
 --- YOU'VE GOT TO STOP THAT TRAIN--
 --- THERE ARE HIGH EXPLOSIVE BOMBS PLANTED IN MY BRIEF CASE
 1--1-- 0000

HE'S DEAD, MICKEY! POOR FELLOW--- YES-- IT'S BETTER THAT WAY.

BUT NOW! TO CATCH THAT TRAIN - A PLANE IS THE ONLY ANSWER!

SOON A SMALL FAST PLANE ROARS INTO THE AIR.

WITH THE THROTTLE WIDE OPEN, THE SMALL SHIP SOON OVERTAKES THE STREAMLINE TRAIN.

AS THE PLANE ZOOMS OVER THE TRAIN, THE DEACON DROPS FROM THE WING ONTO THE ROOF!

AT THE AIRPORT THE DEACON HAS NO TROUBLE FINDING SOME ONE WHO WILL HELP HIM TO SAVE THE LIVES OF HUNDREDS OF PASSENGERS ABOARD THE DOOMED TRAIN

CRAWLING ALONG THE CARS HE FINALLY SWINGS HIMSELF DOWN THROUGH AN OPEN WINDOW!

SORRY TO BARGE IN ON YOU THIS WAY FOLKS, BUT YOUR LIVES ARE IN GREAT DANGER!

NOW THAT I'M HERE I'VE GOT TO FIND THE SEAT THAT KREELY WAS SITTING IN!

HOLY SMOKE!!-- THERE IT IS ON THE SEAT!- QUICK, SOMEONE OPEN A WINDOW!! THERE'S HIGH EXPLOSIVES IN THIS CASE!

THE DEACON HURLS THE BRIEF CASE OUT THE WINDOW, AND A MINUTE LATER THE ENTIRE HILL-SIDE IS BLASTED AWAY!

THE FOLLOWING DAY -

AND AT THE MARSHLAND CHURCH HOME OF THE DEACON

GEE, MR. DEACON, YOU WERE SWELL SAVING ALL THOSE PEOPLES LIVES!- IT WAS JUST LIKE IN THE MOVIES!- BOY WAIT'LL I GET BIG, I'M GOING TO BE A HERO TOO!

YOU ARE A HERO MICKEY AND SO IS EVERY AMERICAN WHO HELPS UNCLE SAM COMBAT THE FORCES OF EVIL THAT PLOT AGAINST THE ONE PLACE WHERE PERSONAL LIBERTY STILL EXISTS- AMERICA!!

TRAP DOOR IS RELEASED ...
LEAVING THE
MARINE SUS-PENDED IN MID-AIR

AS HE STARES DOWN INTO THE
PIT, COLD PERSPIRATION ROLLS
FROM HIS FACE ... GRITTING HIS TEETH, HE PREPARES HIMSELF FOR A HORRIBLE DEATH ...

GLANCING ABOVE, BILL NOTICES THE TORTURE PROVIDED FOR HIM ... THE THIN ROPE IS SLOWLY UNRAVELING!

HIM, IN A HUGE
PIT ... DEADLY
COBRAS SWAY
SLOWLY ... READY
TO STRIKE !!

FIGHTING DESPERATELY
HE TRIES IN VAIN TO FREE HIMSELF -----

BUT THE MORE SERGEANT TANNER
STRUGGLES, THE FASTER THE ROPE
UNWINDS ...

SUDDENLY THE DOOR LEADING INTO THE ROOM CRASHES OPEN ... AND AS BILL
SWINGS HIS BODY AROUND, THE ROPE
SNAPS -----

---AND NOT A SECOND TOO SOON ...!
HE IS STACKLED AND THROWN CLEAR OF THE PIT ----

AND HAVE A
LOOK!

HOLY SMOKES! -- AN ELEPHANT STAMPEDE! WALLY--COME OUT OF THAT CLEARING, QUICK!

AS THE MAMMOTH BEASTS CHARGE AT WALLY, HE RUNS FOR HIS LIFE!

BUT SUDDENLY HE TRIPS AND GOES SPRAWLING TO THE GROUND

AT THAT MOMENT BILL SWINGS FROM THE TREE -- LIFTING WALLY OFF THE GROUND

--- AND CARRIES HIM UP ONTO A HUGE BRANCH ACROSS THE CLEARING ---

WHEW! I WANT TO SHAKE YOUR HAND ON THAT TRICK BILL! FORGET IT WALLY, YOU DID THE SAME FOR ME!

LOOK BILL! IT'S YIN TSE -- HE DIDN'T MAKE IT -- HE'LL BE CRUSHED IN THAT STAMPEDE!

WELL, WALLY, THAT'S THE END OF YIN TSE. HE PROBABLY STAMPEDED THE HERD AND WAS CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP!

LATER BACK AT THE PLEASANTON

OH SERGEANT TANNER -- YOU'RE WONDERFUL -- HOLD ME, DARLING -- PLEASE HOLD ME TIGHT!

HEY! HOW ABOUT ME!

HE SOLVED THE RIDDLE OF THE AGES

THE DISCOVERY OF MEANS FOR CONVERTING MAGNETIC INTO ELECTRIC ENERGY BY MICHAEL FARADAY IN 1831 IS PERHAPS THE GREATEST CONTRIBUTION TO LIFE BY MAN.

BORN 1791 - DIED 1867.

OTTO VON GUERICKE

BORN 1602

MADE THE FIRST ELECTRIC GENERATOR - A BALL OF SULPHUR ROTATING UNDER FRICTION.

VON KLEIST

1745

MADE THE LEYDEN JAR TO STORE GUERICKE ELECTRICITY.

VOLTA

1775

DISCOVERED CHEMICAL MEANS FOR GENERATING ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

HUMPHRY DAVY

1820

MAGNETIZED AN IRON BAR BY PASSING CURRENT THROUGH WIRE WOUND AROUND THE BAR.

THE GOLDEN CHAIN

From the loadstone and mariners compass to Niagara's giant generators is a long stretch of time, and a world of doing; much like bridging the centuries. The ancients puzzled over the strange behavior of the needle in the compass, yet centuries passed awaiting the explanation. Gilbert (who died 1603) after much study expressed an opinion that it was due to the earth's magnetism. About twenty years later von Guericke built a machine which generated frictional magnetism; but several centuries were again to pass before the coming of Faraday who in 1831 discovered the means for using this force, giving us The Key to our Modern Electric Age.

The blooming of a rose with all its fragrance and beauty is not one bit more thrilling than the story of this child of poverty and his flowering into manhood. His father, a blacksmith, sent him out to the world at 13 years. Michael found a job with a kindly bookbinder, serving him as an errand boy for one year. His attention and appreciation was so marked, the bookbinder offered to teach him the trade; requiring seven years apprenticeship. Michael jumped at the opportunity.

The years passed quickly, for here he found companionship and thrills in the books on which he worked. One in particular fired his imagination as nothing had before, this book, "The Mind," by Watts, gave him understanding of the IMPORTANCE OF BRAINS, and prepared him for the study of this strange force, (Faraday's great decision made after reading an article on electricity).

Later there came into the shop another, which taught him the importance of LEARNING BY DOING, this volume, "Experimental Chemistry," put him definitely on his course in life.

When watching his father by the light of the forge as he hammered that soft glowing metal there on the anvil into a thing of service, Michael must have sensed that life is what we make of it. He was no makeshift mechanic; he never forgot the sturdy, prideful strokes of his father at the anvil; 100% purpose in the doing of things; behind each stroke the best he could give it.

Michael was known in all England for his skill as a BOOKBINDER, but later he was to be known to all the world for his matchless skill as EXPERIMENTER. He followed his trade as a journeyman about two years, when he could no longer resist his yearning to become better acquainted with the mysteries of science and then started his second apprenticeship as laboratory assistant to Sir Humphrey Davy. Here, Michael rubbed elbows with many of England's scientific bigwigs; history records that he showed a brilliancy not less than the greatest of these and later proved himself greater with his discovery in 1831 of ELECTRO MAGNETIC INDUCTION made possible by CAUSING A CONDUCTOR TO MOVE IN A MAGNETIC FIELD SO AS TO CUT MAGNETIC LINES OF FORCE—Man's greatest gift to life; THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER GENERATOR, as used throughout the world.

« FARADAY IN 1822 »

THINKING OF DAVY'S EXPERIMENT, DECIDED IT SHOULD BE POSSIBLE TO CONVERT MAGNETIC INTO ELECTRIC ENERGY AND IN 1831 DISCOVERED THIS IMPORTANT PRINCIPLE . . . .

PATROLMAN WATSON

Soho at 2 A.M. is deserted. A high moon in a blackout adds little relief to its typically sombre atmosphere, BUT IT'S FLYING TIME FOR THE "HEINES." James Watson patrolling his beat, was brought to the alert by a flashing light—shot into the blue of night from a fifth story window of a building in the next block, now gone dark. The "London Bobby" is nothing if not tolerant, but that flash ruffled officer Watson's grain. Every "Bobby" is familiar with the "My Home is My Castle" gag, and he respects it and all that, but a feller has to use his noodle in wartime; anyway this Home gag was an old thing and should be buried until they wipe out Hitler. The series of incidents set in motion by that flashing light should convince you that Watson is both tolerant and competent.

People in the Soho district go in and out of buildings at all hours; but to enter one on such an invite Watson says is not cricket. All of half an hour had passed before the patrolman concealed in a nearby doorway called out—"Say, Buddy, just a moment, please," (his companion had already entered the building). Watson was not a bit surprised to have a gun shoved under his nose or at the question hurled at him, "And who would be asking, please?"—fighting words under the circumstance, you must admit, and which were met by a "hay-maker," that sent the lad sprawling cold to the world; the patrolman tolerantly picked him up, giving him a couple of convincing smackers before he realized the chap was out.

Now don't get the wrong idea about Watson; he was none of your shoot 'em first and argue afterwards guys, but there's nothing in Scotland Yard's manual that requires its men to take bullets as proof of their tolerance. On the surface Watson was as calm as the waters on a summer's lake; but down under, plenty of tough fibre always on call. He didn't pick the lad up to apologize by way of a kiss, the two kissers were to make certain the lad was on his side of the argument. Scotland Yard demands efficiency. He took the short cut to insure his point and to make easy the search for evidence as a warrant of entry; for Watson felt certain there was some connection between that flash and the two prowlers, and he was anxious to find the proof.

An officer of the law is many times in the position of both judge and jury; out of such things the men won promotion—Watson was thorough, he found evidence of a dangerous plot before he slipped the bracelets on. Alone at 2 o'clock in the morning and called upon for action in split seconds timing, Watson rose to Scotland Yard's tradition of "Get Your Man." Rushing into the building, ready for bare hand work, but determined, he headed for the fifth floor and anything between. At least one man would not plant bombs in another part of the city whilst this end was under fire; he'd choke the plot at its source, PERHAPS CAPTURE THE GANG, with this last thought Watson paused midway in his flight up the stairs. "CAPTURE THE GANG," yes, that was the idea, return to the entrance, there he held the vantage point.

The building had recently been converted into a warehouse for Government Stores; fortunately Watson knew the layout, floor by floor, that knowledge counted as odds in the challenge he was facing, that and his contempt for the crooked lop eared, white livered, night watchman, Flanders, who clearly was in the conspiracy. Hurrying to the control room, he pulled the power switch which caused the elevator line to go dead, which in turn tripped the magno-motor into service, closing fast, all doors and windows in the building and locking the steel shutters to the roof stairway. Then lifting the phone, he found as he feared the wires had been cut. In the middle of his search for possible time bombs, the din of an air raid alarm sounded its warning note to a sleepy London, with it the three rats he had trapped came scurrying down the stairway in a mad effort at escape.

Scotland Yard expects its men to do things bare handed when possible, wherefore, the title, "THE CITY'S BRAVE," this requires head work. Patrolman Watson was nobody's dummy in fact he was a bit of a tactician. The path for escape to the rats looked inviting and as certain as the air raid alarm as they speeded down the last flight of stairs, for Watson had deserted the scene. Flanders in the lead as he cleared the last step had acquired a momentum which measured in pounds weight should tear the front door from its hinges, and probably would have but for Watson's neatly stretched wire which took him by the leg bringing him down with a thud, a helpless cushion for the rat that had been running virtual lockstep with him down the stairs. Both lay senseless as Watson came out of his corner to meet the third. Even a rat will fight for his life; realizing the trap too late for any other course, he made a jump from a point some distance above, in landing he carried Watson to the floor battling for a hold.

The patrolman had picked a tough customer, he was badly outweighed, but Watson down under was a tough bit of a lad and was now set to demonstrate. With one hand at the throat of his opponent, his free hand grabbed the big fellows wrist, bending and twisting it in an effort to take his gun away from him. Rolling and fighting, the big arm plunged and jerked like a bucking bronco to free itself for deadly work, but tighter and tighter clamped those steel-like fingers at his throat. The gun fired but the hand was now high in the air. Their faces now close together, Watson hearing the gasping breath, let go the wrist and with both hands at the fellow's throat, clamped tight the jaws of steel shutting off his wind. Fighting with strangling fury, the gun roared again, but the fast weakening man could give it no aim, the bullet sped wide of its mark.

Both men knew this to be a death struggle; if he could maintain his hold, Watson felt certain he could bag his man. The other if he could break the hold, he'd pot the patrolman; on and on they battled. The big fellow struggling for breath, Watson hanging on and with one great effort shoved more ounces of pressure into those fingers and then it happened.

Inspector Earle visiting Watson two days later at Charing Cross Hospital listened with deep interest to the patient's impressions of after events. The first thing I recall was the puzzle of my seeming detachment from life, see ing myself as part of events only, the old brain was struggling to tie itself to things, to give me identity, to give me purpose. Cold water was splashing in my face; then someone was pouring whiskey down my throat, telling me to swallow, then it all came back in a flash, as he was struggling and breathing his last, a bomb hurtled earthward, I could hear the siren-like wail above the roar of planes, but do not recall the tone bringing any sense of fear as louder and louder the ear splitting note grew into its crescendo crash that literally tore its way through the building. The old six-story stone structure writhing and trembling as it took the punishment seemingly in one mighty upward surge came to a pause and was now slowly settling down, threatening to crush every living thing within, filling me with hopelessness, the hopelessness of the doomed; silence, unending silence followed; then I could feel the fires of hell racing through my veins, mounting to a hatred which seared the brain, blotting out cohesion.

I must have gone momentarily insane for I do not recall any organized effort at any understanding of the tragic possibilities brought in its wake. Bereft of my senses I lay there waiting for I know not what, as the spark of consciousness struggled to manifest itself into intelligence and action, and with it the hazy feeling that there was nothing that I could do but wait. The shock must have robbed me of desire—too weak to want for anything, I lay waiting now contented; then acrid fumes filling the dust laden air stirred my lungs into a rebellious cough bringing the realization that here lay Watson of Scotland Yard, who in bagging three rats barely escaped their fate.
